

Benefit from ISMP's Rural Hospital Medication Safety Connection™

The Institute for Safe Medication Practices (ISMP) has a unique set of resources that can help small and rural hospitals significantly improve medication safety, implement recommendations from the 2006 Institute of Medicine report on errors, and comply with the Joint Commission's national patient safety goals.

The Connection resource kit helps: Identify Medication Safety Risks Implement Effective Prevention Strategies Measure Results

The Connection resource kit offers the following invaluable resources for the fee of $695:

CDs with presentations by ISMP experts

Hear ISMP experts present proven error prevention strategies and share their experiences regarding medication safety in small and rural hospitals. The kit includes CDs with all three Connection audio conferences held in 2007, PowerPoint slides used by the presenters, and Q&A sessions with hospital participants.

Comprehensive resource binder targeted specifically for small and rural hospitals

The binder is filled with tools and references designed to jump start your medication safety program.

Topics include:

- Identifying medication safety gaps in your organization
- Improving safety in the pediatric population
- Managing high-alert drugs
- Developing a culture of safety

ISMP is an independent, nonprofit organization with decades of experience in error prevention. To order the Connection resource kit, which will be available for purchase in July, contact the Institute at 215-947-7797 or visit www.ismp.org/consult/ruralhospital.
